

Join B2E CoLAB – Project Manager position (Ref CC1-2025)

Are you passionate about driving innovation in the Blue Bioeconomy? Do you have a strong track record in securing project funding and navigating the complexities of multi-stakeholder collaborations?

B2E CoLAB is looking for an experienced professional to join our team as Project Manager – your availability to start must be immediate and the position is to be held until 31st December 2025. The salary will go up to gross 2.716,20€, according to experience.

Who We Are

B2E CoLAB is at the forefront of advancing the Blue Bioeconomy, fostering research, innovation, and market-driven solutions. We work on cutting-edge projects that bridge sustainability, technological development, and economic growth.

Your Role

We are seeking a Project Manager with expertise in preparing applications for project funding, project management, and the ability to navigate a dynamic innovative ecosystem. The selected candidate will work closely with partners across academia, industry, and government to ensure the success of strategic initiatives.

Key Responsibilities:

- Lead pre-award funding efforts - such as identifying appropriate funding calls, creating a project narrative, manage putting together consortia and develop/write the funding applications for R&D and innovation projects. The candidate needs to show proven experience in these activities, especially writing funding applications.
- Manage multi-stakeholder ID&I projects and consortia, ensuring alignment with objectives - This means the candidate must gather strong project management skills, with a focus on multi-stakeholder collaborations.

- Aid on open innovation initiatives that foster synergies between projects and the broader Blue Bioeconomy innovation ecosystem. The candidate must be proactive, with a solution-oriented mindset with excellent organizational and communication skills.
- Fluency in English and Portuguese is required.

 To apply, send your CV and academic certificates to b2e@b2e.pt by 28th march.
